

OUR MISSION

To retain our position at the forefront of weld purging technology by developing and evolving new products to maintain pace with advancing weld purging knowledge and even anticipate material technology as well as market demands.

To combine our passion with our extensive scientific intelligence to offer the best weld purging solutions for achieving high quality, zero colour welds, which guarantee to save our customers time and money.

To invest in our products and in our people to ensure our customers receive a first class service, whilst building value for our shareholders and a dynamic, creative and challenging environment for our employees.

To remain the leading developer and manufacturer of weld purging products, maintaining a string of major international offices with dedicated global coverage.

OUR VISION

To continue inventing and reinventing technologies designed to improve the practices of weld purging to support our customers in their daily welding activities.

By staying in touch with changing technology, we are able to integrate the latest materials and products, into our systems, thereby keeping ahead of customer demand.
